

*Centre for Medical Psychology &
Evidence-based Decision-making*

You're invited to the launch of the Centre for Medical Psychology and Evidence-based Decision-making (CeMPED)

which will take place on Friday 25th July 2008 at 5:30pm,
followed by drinks and nibbles.

It will be held at the Eastern Avenue Lecture Theatre at the University of Sydney, Camperdown/Darlington Campus.

The centre's mission is to support excellence in research across the interface of Psychology, Medicine & Public Health to answer questions about:

- ↪ The behavioural factors which promote good health and prevent disease
- ↪ How to increase the use of evidence to make better health care decisions
- ↪ Ways to enhance the psychosocial adjustment of patients and carers
- ↪ Ways to support patients to be more involved in their own health care

The co-directors of CeMPED are Professor Phyllis Butow (Psychology), Professor Martin Tattersall (Medicine) and Associate Professor Alexandra Barratt (Public Health).

Please make a note of this event in your diary, a formal invitation will follow.
