

The University of Sydney

Qualitative Health Research Collaboration (QHeRC)

Qualitative Health Research Student Conference

Time: 9-12.45. Morning tea and lunch will be provided.

Date: Tuesday, 8 December 2009

Venue: Norman Gregg Lecture Theatre
Edward Ford Building (main campus)

See map at:

<http://db.auth.usyd.edu.au/directories/map/building.stm?ref=h15122>

RSVP: Kathy Flitcroft, kathyf@health.usyd.edu.au

9.00 – 9.05	Welcome	Kathy Flitcroft
9.05 – 9.20	Sexual adaptation in adults with physical impairment	Natalie Hamam (Health Sciences)
9.20 – 9.40	Discussion
9.40 – 9.55	Exploring provision of “extra” foods with parents of young children	Nick Petrunoff (Nutrition and Dietetics, RNSH)
9.55 - 10.15	Discussion
10.15 – 10.30	Local officials in China’s new Rural Cooperative Medical Scheme	Lin Yuan (Ageing & Human Development)
10.30 – 10.50	Discussion
10.50 – 11.15	Morning tea
11.15 – 11.30	Implementing non-surgical care for dental caries in private dental practice	Alexandra Sbaraini (VELIM & Dentistry)
11.30 - 11.50	Discussion
11.50 – 12.05	Using qualitative research methods to elicit attributes for quantitative choice models	Rachael Morton (Public Health)
12.05 – 12.25	Discussion
12.25 – 12.45	Wrap up	Stacy Carter
12.45 – 1.15	Lunch
1.15 – 2.15	QHeRC planning meeting for 2010.

The Qualitative Health Research Collaboration (QHeRC) is a multidisciplinary, cross-institutional organisation that provides training and support to academics, students and researchers involved in qualitative research.

For more information see <http://www.health.usyd.edu.au/research/qherc.php>